

Privacy Policy

Privacy policy

Wofo manages the information that we collect from you in accordance with applicable privacy legislation. In this Policy, "Wofo", "we", "our" and/or "us" means Wofo Limited, a New Zealand company.

This Privacy Policy describes how Wofo collects, uses, shares and handles your personal data, and sets out the rights and obligations that both you and Wofo have in relation to your personal data. Country specific terms in Appendix A shall also apply to this Privacy Policy.

By accessing any website, platform, service, or mobile application operated or provided by Wofo (together, the "Services"), you accept and agree to the Terms and Conditions of Wofo's user agreement ("User Agreement"), and acknowledge that your personal data may be collected, used, and disclosed in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

Except for any terms that are defined in this Privacy Policy, all other defined terms shall have the same meaning as that defined in the User Agreement. Note that under Wofo's Terms and Conditions, you must not use the Services if you are under 18 years old.

Wofo may, from time to time, modify this Privacy Policy (and update the web page on which it is displayed). If we materially change the ways in which Wofo uses or shares your personal data previously collected from you through the Services, Wofo will notify you through your Wofo account, your registered email address or other communication. You should check that account regularly.

1. Collection of Your Personal Data

Information we collect directly from you:

Wofo collects personal data when you pre-register with Wofo. This includes your full name, email address and location. In circumstances where the below information is not provided to us, we may be unable to provide the Services to you and carry out our contractual obligations with you.

Wofo collects personal data when you register with Wofo. This includes:

- your name, address, email address, phone number and other contact details;

- your birth date and gender;
- ABN if in Australia
- NDIS number if in Australia
- Police or vaccination history if required in your region
- GST number if in New Zealand
- your location and the location where you are interested in performing duties as described in your profile; and
- your work experience, resume, qualifications, education, shift history and feedback on our platform, income from the platform, skillset, and other information relevant for your fitness for tasks.

To enable us to improve our existing services, to create new service features, and to serve you and others with targeted marketing communications, Wofo collects information about the way you use the Services, including the transactions you enter into on the Services, your feedback rating (including any references requested using our 'Reference' feature), the bids you make, the comments you post, and the transactions you enter into with our valued affiliate service providers.

You may apply through our job application submission form provided by a thirdparty service provider. If you do so, we collect the information you make available to us through your application submission, such as your resume, links to other online profiles, and other information you choose to provide.

Information we collect automatically when you use the Services

Wofo may also receive and record the following information from your internet browser and computer, including through cookies and similar technologies, when you use the Services:

- Computer and connection information such as statistics on page views,

traffic to and from the Services, referral URL, IP address, unique device ID, browsing history and web log information; and

Information about your use of the Services, including the date and time you visit the Services, the areas or pages that you visit, the amount of time you spend viewing or using the Services, the number of times you return to the Services, other clickstream or website usage information, and emails that you open, forward or click-through to the Services.

If you use a location-enabled Wofo service, if you allow us, we receive and process information about your precise location (for example, through GPS signals sent by your mobile device). We may also collect the precise location of your device when the app is running in the foreground or background or when the app is closed. We may also use a range of different technologies to confirm your location. When you use the Services, we also infer the general location of your device and the geographic regions our users come from. For example, your IP address may indicate your general geographic region.

For more information on how we use cookies and other similar tracking technologies, please see the section on Cookies and Similar Technologies below.

Information we obtain from other sources

We work with third party verification providers to perform police history checks or background checks on users and receive publicly available information such as court decisions.

We may also receive additional information about you from third parties such as data or marketing partners and combine it with other information we have about you.

What other information users can see about you

You are not anonymous to us when you log into the Services or post any content (including shifts, comments or feedback) on the Services or any associated forum.

Wofo does not in any way control, and does not accept any responsibility or liability whatsoever for, the disclosure or use of personal data which is voluntarily posted by you in a publicly accessible area of the Services.

2. How We Use Your Personal Data

If other user(s) of the Services already have your userID (or other information identifying you), and you have chosen to upload a photo or other personal data to your Wofo account, we may show those user(s) that personal data

Legal ground(s) for use: We display your photo to other users who have your userID only with your consent, which you supply by uploading your photo.

The Services allow you to review your experience dealing with others on the Services, who may in turn leave reviews about you. We compile these reviews to provide an aggregate rating for each user, which will publicly appear along with your profile. Please be aware that other users may rely on this rating when deciding whether to engage with you.

We (or our service providers on our behalf) may use your name, street address, email address, phone number, and data collected from cookies and similar technologies about how you use the Services (including tasks created and certain actions taken on the site) to conduct data analytics, including the creation of look-alike audiences. We use the results of data analytics for marketing, product and service development, and policy development.

We do not use sensitive information for data analytics.

3. Cookies and Similar Technologies

Wofo uses cookies and similar tracking technologies for a number of purposes including to access your information when you sign in, keep track of your preferences, direct specific content to you, report on Wofo's user base, and to improve Wofo's services. We also use cookies or anonymous identifiers when you interact with our affiliate service providers (for example, when you integrate your Wofo account with your Facebook profile) and as further described below.

We use the following types of cookies and similar technologies:

Strictly Necessary Cookies

We use cookies and similar technologies that are necessary to the operation of the Services. This includes technologies that allow you access to our website, services, mobile app or that are required to identify irregular site behaviour, prevent fraudulent activity and improve security, or that allow you to make use of our functions such as saved search or similar functions;

If you change the settings on your internet browser to block or restrict cookies (including cookies associated with the Services), or to indicate when a cookie is being set by Wofo, the Services may not work as intended.
